BRIEFLETS.

—Social night.
—Look out for your soles.
—A good time to clean the bridges.
—Dramatic and dance at All Souls church to-night.
—The moon is dead broke. It has passed its last quarter.
—There are no vacancies in the gravel gang, and no tramps need apply.
—The blacksmiths of the city are striking. That's the way they knock out a living.
—When a lady feels her boughten hair falling down can it be called a false alarm?
—The total real-estate transfers for the week ending January 22, amount to $19,136.75.

—Miss Lily Runals will favor the worshippers at Court Street church Sunday evening with a solo.
—It isn't as hard work as formerly to make a man "take water." The temperance folks are to blame for it.
—It is proposed to publish the names of those who contribute to the fund for securing the State fair here this year.
—The prices affixed to cutters make a pretty good thermometer. They go up or down $1 with every degree of variation in the weather.

—Remember Monday night next. The concert and reading entertainment, of Mrs. Lyman and Miss Runals, at Court Street church that evening will be worthy of a goodly attendance.
—A trio of weary pilgrims serenaded Sheriff Colley last night singing "I can tarry, I can tarry but a night." He put the tramps to bed, gave them to eat and to drink, and to day they their journey renewed.
—The cistern in connection with the First Ward school building should be inspected by the authorities to satisfy those who claim that it is getting in bad shape, and that the children use the water for drinking purposes.

—He dropped his checker-board, slipped on his overshoes and hurried to the Gazette office with that poem on "Beautiful Snow," but before he reached the sanctum, gave up in despair, and went back to add a few more lines to his rhyme on "Spring."

—The case against W. L. Gookins, in which he was charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, has been disposed of, Justice Patten discharging Mr. Gookins honorably, there being no proof of any attempt bordering on criminality.

—There will be a social at the residence of Hon. H. Richardson next Tuesday evening, given by the ladies of Christ church. Good music, both vocal and instrumental, and the usual attractions of the times will be in order. All are invited.

—Among the attractions of the Gilmore concert next Friday evening will be a chorus in which twelve anvils will be introduced. The whole band will be here, and the programme will be about the same as that to be rendered at the Paris Exposition.

—Jerome Terwilliger and Job Jones, a pair of Beloiters, were before Justice Phelps to-day. Jerome accused Job of having taken from his premises $4 worth of timothy hay, and forgetting to say anything to him about it. The case was continued until next Tuesday.

—An entertainment for the benefit of the Congregational church will be held at the residence of A. H. Sheldon, on Jackson street to-night. The chief feature of the entertainment will be a scopic with sixty views from all parts of the world. A charade and reading will complete the programme.

THE WEATHER.

The mercury at 7 o'clock this morning stood at 28 degrees above and at 1 o'clock 32 degrees above. Light fall of moist snow. One year ago to-day at corresponding hours the thermometer stood at 4 degrees below and 24 degrees above. The indications to-day are, cloudy weather, with areas of light rain or snow, warm southerly shifting to colder northerly winds.

THE PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

In these days of wars and rumors of wars concerning the respective rights of teachers and parents, it will doubtless prove of interest to many to learn that the Supreme Court of Illinois has just rendered a decision which may seriously affect the system of grading adopted in the public schools.

The facts in the case were these: A boy had been kept at home a good deal on account of ill health, and, finding he must omit some study, he omitted grammar. In course of time he applied for admission to the High School, and was admitted. Subsequently the teachers discovered that he was deficient in grammar, and required that he should study up and pass in this branch or leave. He was finally expelled for not complying with this demand. A mandamus was brought to compel the trustees to admit him, and the mandamus was issued. The trustees took an appeal, but the Supreme Court affirmed the decision of Judge Gary, holding, in substance, that it is for parents to say what their children shall study of the branches that are taught. They cannot require their children to be instructed in studies not in the curriculum, but of those that are in it they can make their selections for them; and that in passing from one grade to another, or from a grammar to a high school, if the pupil passes in any of the studies on which he is examined he may enter the upper grade in the high school and continue such studies but he cannot continue studies in which he failed to pass.

Mr. George Follan-see, who is a Badger, and who graduated from Lawrence University, Appleton, Wis., appeared for the defendant in the suit.

A LIVELY COURT SCENE.

The readers of the Gazette will remember doubtless the account given of a general row in the town of Fulton, in which John A. Collins and Henry Collins, seemed pitted against Meder Perego and Ed. Martin, and in which pitchforks and knives were freely brandished. The Collinses secured warrants for the arrest of the two latter and Constables Drake and Taylor have been on the war-path after them for several days. Yesterday they bagged their game, but not without some difficulty. They "piped them off" to Justice Spencer's office in Edgerton, where they found the two last named ones pushing a successful prosecution against the two Collinses, who were finally fined $5 each for their part in the same row for which they had complained against Perego and Martin, before Justice Phelps. The trial was in progress when the constabulary force entered. Taylor gently placed his hand on Perego's shoulder, and kindly suggested to him that, if he would step out of the crowd, he would read him a cordial invitation from Justice Phelps to come to Janesville. Perego didn't care anything about the invitation, but to accommodate the constable, was about to step out, when Prosecuting Attorney Town told him to "stay a bit." Taylor thought the invitation to go should be accepted, and was about to take his man under the shadow of his wing, when some in the crowd swarmed about him, and made quite successful efforts to punch him. Being temperate in his habits objected to punch, and a lively scuffle ensued. Coats were doffed and shirt sleeves rolled up. The court in vain shouted for order, and battered his table with a stick of firewood. Constable Drake meanwhile stood by the desk, watching the battle as coolly as though he was having his tin type taken. The Justice noticed him, and his cry of "who are you?" awed the crowd into silence long enough for them to hear the reply. Drake explained their mission, and the matter was settled so that Perego and Martin were allowed to take up their journey, for Janesville, where they arrived in company with the officers to-day to give bail before Justice Phelps.

TROUBLESOME TRADING.

A Constable in Hot Water, From an Alleged False Imprisonment—The Same Horse Trade puts a Respectable Citizen Under Lock and Key—Strangely and Sadly Mixed Statements.

A decidedly mixed and interesting case has been before Justice Balch for a few days past and has just reached a verdict. From the testimony brought out and the statements made by the several parties concerned it appears that Peter Grantier, who lives in the town of Turtle, some time ago traded conditionally a pair of mules for a team of horses, with a man named Howe. Afterwards, in accordance with his understanding of the trade, he tried to swap back, but Howe objected. He procured papers and brought to his aid Constable Geo. C. Pettibone, of Shirland, Ill., who secured possession of the mules from Horn and delivered them, as he claims, over to Grantier, but neglected to take the necessary bonds. Grantier then had both the mules and the horses. The mules are said to have disappeared mysteriously, and the next chapter in the strange history shows Grantier under criminal prosecution for stealing them. While there appeared no wanton crookedness in the matter, on legal technicalities it is said that the court decided him guilty and that he was sentenced to a year in Joliet. Howe, who claims to have been left without either mules or horses, brought suit against the constable and recovered $300 for the team. The constable, as was therefore out of pocket, and thought that as he had paid for the team, he should be the owner thereof. In June last, Grantier left the horses in charge of his boy near Woodstock. He had scarcely been away two hours, when Constable Pettibone appeared, and according to the young man's story nabbed both him and his father's horses. This son, named Albert Grantier, gives another strange chapter to the wonderful horse history. He claims that Constable Pettibone made the arrest and took the horses without serving any papers or telling him the nature of the crime. More yet. He says he took him on a wild goose chase, compelling him to travel around for about a week, going first to Harvard, then to Sharon, then to Beloit, then to Shirland, then to Rockford, and then home, where he was set at liberty. He claims also that Constable Pettibone induced Mrs. Grantier to pay over $10 for his expenses in making this trip. Young Grantier objected seriously to what he deemed an abuse of constabulary authority, and when Pettibone appeared in this city the other day he hastened to effect the constable's arrest for false imprisonment. Pettibone after spending a night with the Sheriff, secured the necessary $1,000 bail and will show up his side of the story before the Circuit Court.

The case before Justice Balch was in the nature of a replevin suit, brought by Peter Grantier against Albert Porter, to recover the possession of the team, they being in the hands of the latter who claims to have purchased them from his brother-in-law, Constable Pettibone. Porter appeared to be mixed up in the case in no other way than having innocently secured the team in dispute. The jury brought in a verdict giving Grantier the team and a dime's worth of damages. An appeal was promptly taken and the case will be more thoroughly sifted in the higher court.

COLD-WATER CALLERS.

The delegation from the Beloit Temple of Honor who visited the Janesville Temple last week, give the following account of their visit in the columns of the Free Press:

Temperance men like to patronize each other as far as consistent, and accordingly our party "put up" at the Norris House, a temperance institution, the proprietors, father and son, both being prominent and hard-working members of the Janesville Temple. We were well treated by Messrs. Norris. As soon as our Janesville brethren learned that we were in their city, many of them left their work and did what they could to interest us, showing us through the cotton factory, etc., etc.

At the proper hour we repaired to Temple Hall, a large, beautifully and conveniently furnished room, fitted up expressly for this order, and for which they pay something over three hundred dollars per year. This Temple numbers some two hundred members, including many of the best and most talented men in the city—clergymen, physicians, lawyers, business men, public officials, etc., and many of these men, (leaving out the clergymen), are reformed drinkers—some of them reformed drunkards, and probably the majority of them have had more or less experience as drinking men. We were deeply impressed with the proceedings at our sister Temple, and came home much strengthened in temperance principle.

—The main topics of conversation are bad roads, and low prices.
—Rev. May has been secured as pastor of the Congregational church for the coming year.
—Those hunters, who fired so many shots after dark, near Leyden, must have enjoyed their sport.
—The funeral of J. N. Brooks, held at Cooksville, was largely attended by people from Fulton and Porter. Mrs. Brooks returned to her home in Iowa, this week. But before going she wished to thank the many friends at Cooksville, for their manifold kindness during the sad trials through which she passed while there.
—Several of our home tobacco buyers as well as a few eastern buyers, are looking up the crop, but as yet few sales are made.
—A necktie party will be given by the church at Van Etta's hall, Friday evening, of this week.

CITY NOTICES.

No. 2020.

An article that is at once a tooth preserver and breath purifier, and yet so pleasant and convenient to use, its exceeding popularity does not surprise any one. Time has fully established the fact that the Soudont possesses these excellent qualities in an eminent degree. It has legitimately acquired the right to a position upon every toilet table.

Spalding's Glue, always up to sticking point.

Local Matters.

Ladies and Gents will always find the latest and cheapest Box and Staple Stationery in the city and Sutherland's Bookstore, No. 25 Main street.

It needs but one trial to convince you that the Brazilian Volcanic Stove Polish is the best article in the market. To demonstrate this, buy a box, and if it is not satisfactory, return it and we will refund your money. Sold by J. A. Nash, C. Dutton, J. Davis, W. T. Vankirk. Jan 25/1878

A word to the wise. If you are suffering with a severe Cough or Cold, call on your druggist and get a bottle of Dr. Marshall's Lung Syrup, and save large doctor bills. It relieves almost instantly. Price 25 cents. Sold by E. B. Heimstadler. Jan 25/1878

A Vast Army of Sufferers. Jack Turner, of St. Paul, writes: "The whole continent is sending its vast army of sufferers up to this beautiful climate where its pure, soft, balmy air seems to invigorate and restore the emaciated form to a healthy, robust, vigorous manhood again. Thousands come here with throat and lung diseases, usually accompanied with an aggravated cough, and many entirely recover, but by making inquiries you will find that three quarters of those restored, commenced taking Hie's Cough Cordial, by the advice of some friend, as soon as they arrived here. This medicine is as staple as flour up here." Such letters as this are pouring in from all parts of the country. Dec 25/1878

Unequaled in its location, and unsurpassed in its arrangements, for the convenience and comfort of the traveling public, the Colonnade Hotel on Chestnut street, Philadelphia, holds the highest rank. Jan 25/1878

Dunbar's Wonderful Discovery.—Bathesda Water, the acknowledged cure of Bright's Disease, Diabetes, Kidney Affections of all natures and kinds, Dropsy, Incontinence of Urine, Bile Affections, Dyspepsia and Gouty Swellings. E. B. HEIMSTADLER, Sole Agent for this City. Jy 25/1878

Beyond the Reach of Human Skill. Is the power to restore the hair to bald heads when the bulbs at the roots are destroyed by age or disease; but there are doubtless many persons becoming bald, whose hair by careful attention might be restored to its original luxuriance and beauty. Parker's Hair Balsam is an elegant preparation, designed to meet the public want for a harmless hair dressing and restorative. It acts like magic, commencing at the very roots, removes dandruff, and all humors from the scalp, and never fails to restore gray or faded hair to the original color, and the soft, rich and glossy appearance of youth. By its occasional use falling of the hair is immediately checked, and a luxuriant and beautiful growth of young hair induced. The exquisite perfume and the purity of its composition are highly appreciated, and as it is not a dye and does not stain the skin or clothing, it is a growing favorite of the toilet table everywhere. Buy a bottle from your druggist, A. J. Roberts, Janesville, Wis., and test its merits. Jan 25/1878

German Syrup.

No other medicine in the world was ever given such a test of its curative qualities as Boschee's German Syrup. In three years two million four hundred thousand small bottles of this medicine were distributed free of charge, by druggists in this country to those afflicted with Consumption, Asthma, Croup, severe Coughs, Pneumonia and other diseases of the Throat and Lungs, giving the American people undeniable proof that German Syrup will cure them. The result has been that druggists in every town and village in the United States are recommending it to their customers. Go to your druggist, and ask what they know about it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular size 75 cents. Three doses will relieve any case. Decided-weakness.

Chicago Market.

CHICAGO, January 24

The markets were well attended this afternoon and trading was fairly active.
Wheat—The market on spring wheat was comparatively bullish in its tendency to-day. As English consols were quoted lower, and the war advances strengthened the opinion that the prospects for an immediate settlement of the Russo-Turkish war are by no means so flattering as was generally supposed, the trade put on its "war paint" for an advance. The strong feeling of yesterday was, indeed, followed by an active upward movement, which was accompanied by a good short demand, and more than an ordinary amount of excitement. Operators, as a rule, seemed to regard the change of the deal from the rice recently occupied as a good stimulant, and quite a liberal day's business was transacted all around. Prices averaged considerably higher, and closed fully 1¢ better than the quotations of the last board on yesterday.

The latest report on No. 2 spring wheat was in fair demand at former prices; seller February sold at 1.05¢/1.06¢, and closed with buyers at 1.05¢; seller March sold at 1.06¢/1.07¢, and closed at 1.06¢.
